University Topics: Updates
Dr. Theresa Chiang
Vice President for Academic Administration

1) From Allied Health

The University of Texas System Board of Regents has approved a new doctoral degree program in Physical Therapy at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio. The program must still receive approval from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. Under the new degree plan, the planned doctorate in physical therapy would replace the current master's program at the Health Science Center.

2) From Nursing School

We received $686,547 from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board in resource funding. This is the second highest figure in the state. Texas Tech received more at $702,151. The next highest amount was $304,000.

We will be immediately investing the funds into hiring new faculty to increase our undergraduate enrollment by 20% starting in January, and opening a women's health concentration in our nurse practitioner program for the fall (6 to 7 additional students will be accommodated). The funds were awarded as an incentive to increase/improve graduation rates.
3) From the Office of the Executive Vice President for Business Affairs/Chief Financial Officer (Steve Lynch)

Faculty are reminded that, in order to avoid conflict of commitment issues, a special form needs to be submitted when accepting appointments on advisory boards (state or federal), etc. The form, shown below, can be found on the Master Forms List on the UTHSCSA web site. Any such position needs to be reported to the appropriate Dean for review. From the dean’s office it goes to the President’s Office for approval, and then included in the next scheduled institutional Docket for Regental Approval.

Committee on committee members are elected by the faculty, usually in November. The process of identifying new standing committee members includes a request and review of reports from the chairs of each standing committee. COC begins meeting in early February to meet with standing committee chairs and discuss successes, challenges, recommendations for improvement. At about the same time, a campus-wide request for volunteers for committee service is sent out. COC identifies appropriate faculty members to serve on standing committees based upon the expertise needed for the committee in relation to the expertise and experience of the individuals who volunteer. Recommendations for committee appointments go to the President. A final report is sent to the Executive Committee.
