I. Policy

A. Former UT Health San Antonio employees may be considered for re-employment with approval of the Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer or his/her designee for non-faculty re-employment and the Vice President for Academic Faculty and Student Affairs or his/her designee for faculty re-employment. Former employees who apply should not be interviewed until the screening process outlined below is completed.

II. Applicability

A. This policy applies to all former employees.

III. Guidelines

A. May be eligible for re-employment:

Former employees who resigned voluntarily, retired or who were subject to a grant ending or reduction-in-force may be eligible for re-employment.

Employees terminated for the first time for cause other than misconduct or who resigned in lieu of termination if the planned action was termination for cause, may be eligible for re-employment after twelve months.

B. Not eligible for re-employment:

Employees terminated for misconduct for the first time or who are being terminated for cause a second time will be ineligible for re-employment at UT Health San Antonio. This includes employees who resign in lieu of termination when the reason for planned action was termination for misconduct.

Misconduct is defined as substantial or intentional disregard of the employer’s interests which may include unacceptable behavior. Some reasons include, but are not limited to, workplace violence, falsification of records, theft, fraud and embezzlement.

IV. Process

A. The following screening process shall determine the eligibility for re-employment:
   1. Documentation of reason(s) for termination or planned termination at the time of termination from UT Health San Antonio.
   2. Work history while employed at UT Health San Antonio.
   3. Responsibilities of last position with UT Health San Antonio.
   4. Type of position being sought with application for re-employment.

B. If eligible and selected, the former employee must clear a criminal history background check prior to re-employment.

C. If an applicant has previously worked for UT Health San Antonio, Human Resources will review the former employee’s work history, including the termination reason/code to determine eligibility.

D. Based on the guidelines above:
   1. The Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer or their designee will make the final determination of eligibility for re-employment for staff.
   2. The Vice President for Academic Faculty and Student Affairs or their designee will make the final determination of eligibility for re-employment for faculty.
